LOCAL BRIEFS.
Maj. Yates, editor of the Charlotte Democrat, Thos. C. Dewey, of Charlotte; Jno. D. Williams, Jr., of Fayetteville, are in the city.

We would call the attention of editors to the advertisement of Wheeler's Manual of North Carolina, by Alfred Williams, Bookseller.

It is ordered that the members of the order of Knights of Pythias meet at the Baptist Grove every night till Tuesday next for drill and exercise.

The Executive Committee of the State Grange, which was in session here yesterday, will go to Goldsboro to-day to attend the Convention of the Atlantic Grangers, which meets in that place to-day.

We notice in attendance upon the Supreme Court Messrs. Dillard, J. A. Gilmer, Scott and Ball of Greensboro; Messrs. Faircloth and Granger, of Goldsboro; Messrs. Haughton, Green, Seymour and Leyman, of Newbern; J. S. Boyd, of Graham, and J. C. McCray, of Fayetteville.

"Take that advertisement of mine out of your paper if you please," said a New York publisher yesterday morning to our business manager. "I ordered it in for three insertions, just a two line notice of a cow for sale, and I had not less than seventy-five applicants before 12 o'clock, and sold her easily at my own figures."

We learn that the Executive Committee of the Patrons of Husbandry, in session to-day in this city, approved of the action of the Worthy Master in removing E. C. Davidson, of Mecklenburg, from all offices that he has held. Mr. Davidson, it will be remembered, was yesterday named as an independent Grange candidate for Congress, hence his removal.

The 23rd quarterly Conference of the Edenton Street M. E. Church, South, of this city, was held in the church on Tuesday evening last. Rev. W. H. Hobbs, Presiding Elder of the District, presided. Important business affecting the general interests of the church here was done. The following gentlemen were elected delegates to the District Conference to be held at Franklin, commencing on Thursday the 23rd of July next: T. H. Selby, J. C. Palmer, W. J. Young and D. W. Bain. Messrs. J. A. Jones and L. W. Peck were elected alternates.

THE PRINTERS' GREELEY MONUMENT.—At the International Typographical Convention, held in St. Louis, Mo., during the first week of this month, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted: "WHEREAS, Over a year ago an appeal was made through the New York Typographical Union to the craft all over the country for a subscription to erect a monument over the grave of Horace Greeley; and WHEREAS, A sufficient sum has not been received to undertake the work; therefore

"Resolved, That a special committee of 13 be appointed by this union to receive contributions for the furtherance of the proposed monument to the late Horace Greeley."

In accordance with the above resolution, Mr. James C. Birdsong, delegate from Raleigh, nominated himself as one of the said committee of 13 to represent this State, and receive contributions for the proposed monument. Any monies forwarded to Mr. B., care postoffice box 233, will be thankfully received and forwarded to the committee. He is well known and such contributions duly forwarded to the Chairman of the Committee. It is to be hoped that the printers especially throughout the State, will display their usual generosity and respond liberally to appeal, so as to enable their brother craftsmen of New York to erect such a monument as will reflect credit on the craft and an honor to the illustrious dead. State papers will confer favor by giving the above an insertion.

THE LOVEJOY SCHOOL.—The Spring session of the Lovejoy School closed yesterday with declamation by the pupils. We would be glad to give the programme, and refer especially to some of the youthful Demosthenes who acquitted themselves with much credit. After the declamation, Mr. Lovejoy made a brief address to the school, in which he wished a happy and profitable vacation. A good crowd was in attendance, and all were satisfied with the marked proficiency of the pupils.

AGENTS WANTED.—Dr. C. D. Rice, General Agent for the New Jersey Mutual Life Insurance Company, advertises for District and Local Agents. As to the character of this Company, we refer to the following figures: Policies issued last year, $977; income, $1,000,000; surplus $500,000; ratio of assets to liabilities 147. See advertisement.

COLLINS AND BLALOCK, THE CONDEMNED.

THE SENTENCE OF THE LAW TO BE EXECUTED ON FRIDAY AT SMITHFIELD.

A FULL CONFESSION MADE TO THE "NEWS" REPORTER.

David Collins, white, and Alexander Blalock, colored, charged and convicted of the crime of murder will, if not pardoned or respited by the Governor, be executed in the jail yard enclosure, in the town of Smithfield, Johnston county, next Friday. Several days ago we visited the prisoners in their cell in the Wake county jail, and asked if they had or would make any confession of the crime of which they had been convicted. Both refused, but on yesterday we made a second visit, when both expressed a willingness to make a clean breast of the whole affair. Each of the prisoners seemed thoroughly impressed with their awful situation, and we hope and believe are prepared for the terrible doom that awaits them with a firm and abiding hope of entering a better world. They were in separate dungeons, and had no way of communication, one with the other, and as the statements corroborate with each other, we believe them to be strictly true. Collins remarked, "as this is my dying statement, I desire to be especially cautious to say nothing that would bear a construction not in strict accordance with the truth."

The prefatory remarks of Blalock in his confession were similar to those of Collins. The confessions were taken down verbatim, and so we report them.

CONFESSION OF DAVID COLLINS.
On the 6th day of September between sunset and dark Alex. Blalock and John Hood came to my house and said to me, "Allen Jones has gone up the road with a load of baskets; that they were going up the road to meet him to whip him. They said Johnny and Rufe Lassiter had agreed to go with them. I desired to know if I would help. My answer was I would. I told them to go home and I would go and see John and Rufe Lassiter. When I got to the Lassiter house the boys did not seem to be in. I waited until 12 o'clock, and then I went with me down to Flick's (Blalock's). When I got there, both Hood and Blalock came out with frocks and bonnets on, thoroughly disguised, with their faces blacked up, and their hair in a hickory. While talking at Blalock's house, the news came that Allen Jones had come home. Alex said, "I will go and see him. He returned and said, 'Yes, old Alex has come home.' So we will postpone the whipping for this time. In this time, Mrs. Lassiter was calling loudly for her boys to come home. I told them to go and see John and Rufe Lassiter. When I got to the Lassiter house the boys did not seem to be in. I waited until 12 o'clock, and then I went with me down to Flick's (Blalock's). When I got there, both Hood and Blalock came out with frocks and bonnets on, thoroughly disguised, with their faces blacked up, and their hair in a hickory. While talking at Blalock's house, the news came that Allen Jones had come home. Alex said, 'I will go and see him. He returned and said, 'Yes, old Alex has come home.' ## The Color Line.

The mongrel party in North Carolina are loud-mouthed in their denunciation of the line of color, and are profuse in their denials of the fact that the issue has been forced upon the white men of the State. A majority of their organs, having acuteness enough to perceive in the agitation of civil rights the death-blow to republicanism in the South, in a mild way disapprove of the measure. But the disapproval is faint and purely for policy, their hearts are not in it. It is the white man who reads, and the white man who must be conciliated.

But their denials are wilfully untrue. We admit that the prejudices of many white Republicans are against the civil rights bill, but it is the policy of the party, it has passed the Senate and has a large majority in the House, only lacking six votes of two-thirds, and they are obliged to support it. Did either Cobb or Thomas dare to oppose it?

HARRIS, the candidate for Solicitor in this District, avows himself in favor of the bill. The members of the Convention that nominated HEADEN were swift to applaud the denunciation of SMITH by HEADEN's tool for voting against it, and silent when SMITH, who, whatever his faults are, is at least a white man, arose to defend his vote. This is not all. Ever since nominating Conventions began to assemble in May the negro has gained upon the white man in the Republican party. In the first district civil-rights Cobb was re-nominated solely on account of the negro prejudice in his favor. In the second, HYMAN, a negro who voted in the Senate for a resolution asking Congress to pass SUMNER'S bill, has been nominated and in all probability will be elected. In the third district the negro delegates to the Convention mingled upon terms of perfect equality with the white, eating at the same table with them upon the boat, &c. We have already alluded to the applause given to civil rights in the fourth district. In the fifth BILLY HENDERSON was the negro's candidate, and under his instruction, at a Randolph dinner a few days since, the crowd was called to the table, twenty at a time, ten black men and ten white men! In the other districts there are, as yet, no Republican nominees.

Again look at the county nominations, and see the inroads that the negroes have made. Could you visit the city of Raleigh, white men of the West, you would find a negro deputy in the office of the Superior Court Clerk. BUNTING is perhaps the most popular Republican office-holder in the county, and yet, pandering to the colored voter, he has passed by the white Republican who needs the salary, and has installed in his responsible office a negro deputy. His Radical opponent promises to do the same thing. It was not so in 1872. In the nominations, while the negroes were content with one member of the House in '72, this year they have two. The Coroner, an office which J. H. HARRIS, colored, said in 1872, to fill with a colored man would be an insult to every white family in the county, is to be a negro. And this in a county which has a majority of whites.

In Warren a white member of the House and a Register of Deeds were thrown over for negroes. In Lenoir a white member of the House is to be succeeded by a negro. In Craven a white Senator is to be supplanted by a negro. In Greene a white member of the House is set aside and a negro takes his place. In New Hanover almost every office, except Sheriff and Clerk, is given to the negroes, and the only reason why those are not included is that the white man alone can give the necessary bond. These are only instances, selected here and there from the different counties of the State, to show that the negro is forcing civil rights, and is driving the white men to accept the issue they tender of white man against black man.

If the citizens of Western North Carolina once appreciate the condition of things in the centre and East, the death-knell of Republicanism will indeed be sounded. Hearing Republican candidates denounce the negro, they do not take in the real situation and are deceived by the statements of candidates. The issue is upon us, and the white men of the State have the power to settle it forever. We will have no right to complain if the victory is not complete. The white men of North Carolina have the power, and if they permit it to be frittered away by dissensions, by independent candidates, by apathy, by greed for office, they deserve the political damnation which will surely follow.

We ask the man whose reputation has been so stainless, whose life has been marked by probity and ability, if he is willing to turn his back upon his friends and his race, if he is willing to drag down into a common ruin his party and his honor? Will the memory of his father not bid him pause? Admit that he has been badly treated, does that justify him in striking a blow at all the people of the State, in upholding disorganization and thereby defeating the Conservative candidates? Whether this man lives in the Ninth Judicial District or the Seventh, he will know that we are speaking truth, and we believe he will not fail us. If he does, the people will mark him, and his reason will be without evil results.

THE New York Herald has been forced to acknowledge the fact, painful though it be to New Yorkers, that the metropolitan supremacy of that city is fast fading away. Says the Herald:

"Yet truth is truth, and the fact is that of late years, independently of the recent panic and present depression (though of course, modified by these elements), the city of New York has in various important branches of trade and manufacture lost, or rather is gradually losing, her supremacy, while in these very points other cities have been gaining on the metropolis."

Dry goods, for instance, have fallen off and the season has been unusually dull. In Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Chicago it has remained comparatively firm. The sales of the largest house in New York in the wholesale trade have decreased from fifty million dollars to twenty millions, and the leading dry goods houses have lost fully fifty-five millions. In the boot and shoe trade there is the same complaint, while Baltimore and Boston and other places, the prospects are very fair. In cloth and tailoring goods New York has also retrograded. The lack of energy is shown in the number of buildings erected this year.

THIS is the way a correspondent of the Washington Republican puts the third term question: "The question which must soon be submitted to the people is whether they will risk the disintegration of the Republican party, and the access to power of the party in complicity with secession or elect Gen. Grant for the third time President of the United States."

In other words, Grant alone can beat the Democrats. AN UNLUCKY FAMILY.—[From a Paris letter.]—Recall the annals of Mons. St. Marc Girardin's family. His sister had just been married; she returned from the bridal altar, retired to her dressing room to change clothes; a pistol shot was heard in the adjoining dressing room; they who hurried there found the bridegroom on the floor, a corpse; he had committed suicide. This widow, two sisters of Mons. St. Marc Girardin's wife, and his son, went out bathing, twelve months afterwards; the boat was upset, and all except the widow were drowned. His daughter was married; six weeks after the wedding day her husband fell from a window of the third story, and was killed; some people said he committed suicide. A few years afterwards one of Mons. St. Marc Girardin's sons got into a quarrel with a railway officer; to escape from him he leaped into a river (it was midsummer) where he had swam a thousand times; he went like a stone to the bottom.

Sweet are the uses of adversity and of modern martyrdom. There is Professor Spring, recently under trial at Chicago for heresy. His admirers are building him a handsome church to hold three thousand people. And moreover, he has been given a holiday and is off fishing, not for men but for trout, and last of all, he has been invited to go with Beecher, Colver and others in a special Pullman car, fitted up for this purpose, to the Rocky Mountains for a month. One thing is obvious; the sympathy of the public is on the side of Professor Spring and against Dr. Patton. Why this is so involves a very important point in the freedom of the modern Christian pulpit and should set the ministry thinking.

People are not always acquainted with the great danger in which newspaper men are placed. It was only the other day that an editor of a journal in France committed suicide and left the following statement, which told his sufferings but too plainly: "I was bored, and I have killed myself. Let no one be accused of my death. Do not look for my head. I have hidden it myself in order not to be recognized."

The problem of how a one-armed man can drive a nail was recently solved while watching a one-armed bricklayer at work in this city. The bricklayer, called to one of the laborers for a nail, which he took between two fingers of his solitary hand, in which also he held a brick, the latter being pressed against the head of the nail. The first drive fixed the nail where it was to go, when to drive it firmly in its position became, of course, an easy matter.

"How do you do, Mr. Jones?" said a stranger, blandly smiling as he entered the store of a dealer. "Well, thank you," stily rejoined Mr. Jones. "You don't seem to know me; I am Brown, and I live here, near me; I beg ten thousand pardons, Mr. Brown," said Jones, relaxing and shaking hands cordially, "excuse me, I thought you were a drummer. 'So I am,' said Brown. Tableau vivant.

The mixture of visionary and injurious notions with much that is attainable and most earnestly desired by every true citizen, diminishes the strength of all the organizations, and is rapidly turning the hopes of all practical reformers to the Democratic party, which is in favor of every worthy object advocated by the party.

It would not be at all surprising were Gen. Grant again placed in nomination by the Republican party or brought out as a candidate by those who believe that the interests of the nation demand the speedy redemption of specie payment. Nor would his re-election be any more surprising than his renomination. —New-London Telegram (Rep.)

It is a good thing to understand Latin. A member of one of the public schools of a city not very far distant from here, was asked the meaning of the inscription, "Non sibi, sed Patrie," on a monument, and after some vexation of spirit, he responded, "Not himself, but his father!"

A dispatch from Portland, Oregon, gives the following result of the State election: The entire Democratic State ticket is elected. The Senate stands—11 Republicans, 9 Democrats, 10 Independents. House—16 Republicans, 22 Democrats, 23 Independents.

"The time is coming," says the Chicago Tribune, "when the whole country will look after the interests of the white people of the South as a means of advancing the negroes. The first thing to bring about a regeneration of the South is to make property secure there."

A woman who recently died near Bangor was so anxious lest her body should be dug up and dissected by the doctors, that she left $50 to pay a man for watching her grave a month after she was buried. The watchman is at his post every night.

If Congressman Lamar, of Mississippi, be not more reticent in his utterances, he will be looked after as a candidate for the second place on the Presidential ticket two years hence. —Syracuse Journal (Rep.)
